Florence Easton Wins Famous Songstress High Praise From Prominent Sources

offered during the coming season of grand opera by the Scotti company will be Florence Easton, leading prima donna with the company during its initial tour last year. It will be recalled that she proved most delightful, both as a and as an actress in the two roles she essayed while here. Her work was one of the notable features of the

During the past year she has been given more opportunity by the management of the Metropolitan company in New York, of which she has been a member for several years, and she has won great success for herself and been recognized as one of the most finished stars of the organization. Especially has she shone in the role of "Kundry," the soprano in Wagner's "Parsifal," and as leading soprano in "Oberon."

The leading critic of Musical America in a recent issued said of "Parsifal."

"In itself the performance achieved conspicuousness over and above the preceding ones through the first assumption of 'Kundry' by Florence Easton. The outcome was the finest embodiment of the character since Olive Fremstad glorified the Metropolitan stage, one that in charm, intelligence, pathos and sheer exalting heauty ranked immeasurably above every impersonation of the past six years. Miss Easton is the greatest, most versatile and poetically the most richly dowered artist at the Metropolitan opera house today. Her opportunities are absurdly incommensurate with her powers for reasons unfathomed. But never does she fail to compass greatness in the tasks accorded her. The 'Kundry' she presented last week stands next in rank to those of Milka Ternina and Olive Fremstad. Her triumph was the more conspicuous as her voice is not in itself of the amplitude, warmth or heavy texture hitherto associated in the public mind with the role."

BRONCHIAL

Memphis Woman in Bad Condition-Relieved by L-V.

"Following an attack of pneumonia and measles combined I was in a very bad condition. My side hurt me so badly I could scarcely breathe. I had awful smothering spells and suffered centinuously," says Mrs. L. M. Brown, 746 Decatur St., Memohis, Teon,

"I suppose my trouble was brouchial for that is what my doctor said it was, I used lots of remeiles without benefit and was in such a serious condition that my friends were alarmed about me. One of them brought me a bottle of L-V, which was formerly called Lang-Vita, and soon benefits showed. I continued using the medicine and steadily improved. In a short time I was feeling like a new woman. I do not merely think Lang-Vita saved my if I thought."

Seems Delighted In Being Back In U.S.

Luisa Tetrazzini, who is to sing at the Lyric theater on Monday evening, and when I finish my tour this year I will have sung in almost all of the principal cities in this country. Such a big, beautiful land, and I hope I leave a pleasant memory in every city where I appear."

SERGEANT POST april of what she said recently when telling of what she said recently when telling of what she said recently when telling of what she feels and how she has spent some of her time since last she was in the United States. The last seem in a crowd ever since I arrived in the United States. How lovely It is to once again be in this country. It makes me very happy to re-visit all the places which I learned to love when I was iast here, and to meet again all the charming people who have always been so sympathetic to me.

To the past four years and a half I have been engaged in touring continental Europe in aid of charity, and I had a very successful tournee, especially in Italy and Paris. On April I, last year, the receipts from my concert in aid of the French Red Cross, were half a million france, Fancy that, per exemple! While I was away, I also had some very interesting audiences, and mme. Raymond Poincare, the queen of Rumania, Marshal Foch and Mrs, Woodrow Wilson were present at my Paris concert. The queen mother of Italy sent for me during my tour the sum of the Lyric the pic to sing to the fact that he has served in the line for seven years, having an excellent record, he has been detailed for recruiting service.

The sergeant was allowed to choose any city in the United States to serve in, and Mme. Raymond Poincare, the queen of Rumania, Marshal Foch and Mrs, Woodrow Wilson were present at my Paris concert. The queen mother of Italy sent for me during my tour

School Situation Critical

Teachers Appeal to the Public

Memphis schools are in danger of literally going to pieces.

Trained teachers are giving way to untrained, inexperienced instructors.

Since February, 1920, graduates have passed from the High School platform to the teacher's desk.

Higher salaries must be paid to attract and hold trained and efficient teachers in the Memphis schools.

The members of the Board of Education have repeatedly stated that they are in favor of adequate salaries, but they have been prevented from paying them by lack

The people of Memphis do not understand how vitally they are concerned in the present crisis of the schools.

The best investment that parents can make for their children is to insure them good teachers.

Good teachers demand good pay.

The Memphis teachers demand efficiency within the teaching ranks, that the training of Memphis youth shall be of the highest type.

Experts come high in any line.

The present low salaries paid in the schools do not attract capable men and

The high salaries in the business world are daily taking experienced teachers from

Adequate pay and high standards will hold and attract the proper teachers for Memphis children.
